

Local Networking

No one knows Central Vermont like those rooted in it.

We don't just know where to go — we know who to call. We help clients, newcomers, and fellow locals navigate the web of small businesses, tradespeople, farms, and food systems with precision and integrity. It's not about listing names — it's about making the right connection at the right time.

What We Offer

Curated Local Knowledge

Need something? If it exists in Central Vermont — from blacksmiths to backwoods bakeries — we probably know them personally. And we only recommend the best.

Trusted Contractor Introductions

We connect you with vetted, community-anchored tradespeople and creatives. No sketchy leads — just real people doing real work.

Farm-to-Table Network Building

We're in conversation with farmers, producers, chefs, and makers every day. Whether you're looking to source ingredients or partner for an event, we help create visibility and trust across the table.
